

TYPHOON MOVES TOWARD NORTH PHILIPPINES

Two Ships Dispatch Distress Signals To Shore

Manila, Aug. 15.—(P)—A swift-moving typhoon, hurled down on the northern Philippines tonight as distress signals were picked up from two ships, driven around ahead of the onrushing storm.

For the first time in weather bureau history, a typhoon signal indicating the center of the storm was nearby, was hoisted at Aparri, little harbor city on the north coast of Luzon Island.

The United States Coast and Geodetic Survey ship Fathomer ran ashore on the northeast tip of Luzon. The Twisted (not listed in available shipping records) was the other distressed vessel.

Starting 100 miles out in the Pacific, the typhoon moved west-northwest at high speed toward the Luzon coast.

It was the second typhoon to hit the northern area within a week. Seven persons drowned in the Cayanag river valley last week when the first storm struck.

Early in the evening the Fathomer reported "at present out of center of typhoon passing. Don't know whether need assistance."

Later both vessels sent calls for help.

The storm moved 80 miles toward the coast in about four hours. Fearing heavy damage, officials broadcast warnings to fishing craft and the recently flood-stricken Cayanag Valley. The vessels were warned against leaving harbor.

Coast and Geodetic Survey officers said Aparri, being somewhat to the north of the typhoon belt, usually was a safe harbor during storms.

Pan American Airways officials said they had no planes closer than 2,500 miles from the storm.

Company officials said the Philippine clipper could wait at Guam, 1,700 miles northeast of Manila, if the weather was unfavorable for the flight to the Philippine capital Tuesday.

Typhoons have taken a heavy toll in the Philippines in recent years. More than 400 persons were killed during the winter season of 1934-35. In April 1935, 70 persons died in a typhoon that lashed southern Luzon.

Claim Member Of Black Legion Had 6 Hand Grenades

Virgil F. Effinger May Be Returned To Detroit For Trial

Detroit, Aug. 15.—(P)—Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea said today he would move Monday to have Virgil F. Effinger brought here from Lima, O., to answer a warrant charging him with possessing six hand grenades at a Black Legion meeting here a year ago.

Effinger surrendered to Lima police today, but they said he was not under arrest, and that no further steps would be taken until the warrant arrived. McCrea asserted that Effinger was a Black Legion "major general" in command of the hooded secret society in this part of the United States.

Effinger denied the grenade possession charge and said he would fight extradition.

The warrant was based on a statement by William H. Guthrie, a printer-member of the hooded order, and corroborated by Dayton Dean, confessed "executioner" in the killing last May 12 of Charles A. Poole.

Dean told McCrea that Effinger, in a speech here, declared that the Black Legion planned a coup d'etat for Sept. 16, 1936 "to take over the United States government."

"They did it in Russia with 30,000 men," Dean quoted Effinger as saying. "And we are stronger than that here and are better equipped."

Effinger told the Lima police he had never met Dean, and that his story was "a lot of nonsense."

Plane Crashes; Two Men Killed

Beach Haven, Aug. 15.—(P)—Dr. John E. Eymon, 40, prominent Chester (Pa.) surgeon, and Duane Van Horn of Plymouth Meeting, Pa., were killed today when their airplane crashed at nearby Brant Beach.

Dr. Eymon's 10-year-old son, David, is at Camp Miguon, Brant Beach, and the father had just started the camp to drop the boy a note. The engine of the plane apparently stalled as he sought to regain altitude, witnesses said.

It was Dr. Eymon's plane and Van Horn was his only passenger.

Containing a quarter, the note which the surgeon dropped read "This note is delivered by airplane express."

New Jersey Dog Catcher, Kills His Pal's Dog

Woodbine, N. J., Aug. 15.—(P)—Orders are orders to Bernard Jargowsky, one of Woodbine's two dog catchers. The orders were to catch and put to death all unmuzzled or unlicensed dogs. Jargowsky caught one and after keeping it the prescribed time during which the owner might reclaim it, put it in the chamber.

Today Eddie Pollock, Jargowsky's fellow dog catcher, learned it was his dog.

Coroner Believes Aurora, Ill., School Teacher, Murdered

Body Of Blanche Shrader Found By Fishermen In Shallow Water

Aurora, Ill., Aug. 15.—(P)—The inquest into the death of Miss Blanche Shrader, 35, Rockford, Ill., school teacher whose body was found in the Fox river, three miles south of here, yesterday by fishermen, was continued indefinitely today when Coroner F. N. Groner announced "it looks like murder."

The Kendall county coroner said he ordered Sheriff William Meier to investigate Miss Shrader's death.

Miss Shrader, who was graduated from the Illinois State Normal school at De Kalb, left the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Shrader, of Shabbona, Ill., last Thursday night. She said she was going for a ride. Her automobile was found parked on the bank of the river yesterday by fishermen who discovered the body.

"I am satisfied that Miss Shrader did not take her own life," Coroner Groner said. "Her body, face down, was found in only two feet of water. Examination showed she had suffered a severe bruise on the left side of her head. Her skull was not fractured."

Miss Shrader's parents were the only persons who testified at the inquest.

Mrs. Shrader said her daughter was in happy spirits when she left home, and to her knowledge had no enemies. Sheriff Meier said "it was impossible for the woman to have drowned in the shallow river."

He said a physician's examination of the body showed absence of water in the lungs.

Mrs. Jennie Felder, of Sandwich, Ill., Miss Shrader's aunt, told authorities she and her husband saw their niece at 10:30 o'clock Thursday night in a railroad station at Aurora.

"We talked to her for only a short time and she was in gay spirits," Sheriff Meier quoted Mrs. Felder as saying.

Sheriff Meier said he believed Miss Shrader might have been killed by a man who accosted her in an isolated district and who might have forced his attentions upon her.

Miss Shrader had been spending her summer vacation with her parents. The Shrader home is 30 miles from the Fox river where the body was found.

Army Officers Are Satisfied With Maneuvers

Pleased With Showing Of 24,000 Regulars And National Guard

Allegan, Mich., Aug. 15.—(P)—The record of more than a week of mobilization and simulated battle in western Michigan "war zone" was stamped tonight with the "O. K." of the second army's high command.

Army officers said they were pleased at the showing of the 24,000 regular and national guard troops which have taken part in the war games for past seven and one-half days.

Umpires still studied reports on the effectiveness of the invading "reds"—mostly mechanized regulars—and the "blues," who are national guardsmen of Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin defending the Great Lakes area from a theoretical attack from the south-east.

Combat was suspended at noon today until early Monday.

Army authorities reported that 340 cases of illness and minor injuries had been treated in hospitals at Grand Rapids, Camp Custer and in the field since maneuvers started. None of the illnesses was serious, authorities said, and most of the patients have returned to their regiments.

Major Gen. C. E. Kilbourne of the second army, Major Gen. Roy D. Keen of the 33rd division and Brigadier General Irving Fiske of the 32nd division and their aides drew the conclusions from the past week's operations that mechanized units, such as the first cavalry, are of vital importance in striking before an opposing army can complete its mobilization and the development of its front lines, but the old dependable infantry must go forward to hold the gains thus made.

POLITICIANS MAKING PLANS FOR CAMPAIGN

Tax, Labor And Farm Issues Appear To Predominate

Washington, Aug. 15.—(P)—By way of laying the groundwork for more constant campaigning, Roosevelt and Landon leaders dwell principally this week on three of the foremost questions upon which the November election will turn—taxes and spending, labor policy and the course of the agricultural adjustment administration.

The attempts to cut across old party lines took a new turn, meanwhile, with the endorsement of the presidential candidacy of Representative Lemke of North Dakota in Cleveland today by followers of the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, Detroit radio priest.

A conference between President Roosevelt and fiscal advisors, after which Secretary Morgenthau forecast that no new taxes would be recommended to the next congress by this administration, was called "a political gesture, pure and simple" by representative Bacon, of New York, eastern campaign manager for the Republican congressional committee.

Morgenthau and Chairman Harrison and Doughton, of the Senate and House committees responsible for tax legislation, said a survey would be made to show whether some tax reform subject also engaged Col. Frank Knox, who told a West Virginia rally "The American people must pay for this orgy of extravagance."

In his address, the Republican vice presidential nominee touched on both the labor and farm questions. Where speakers before labor's non-partisan league earlier in the week had upheld the wage and hour aspects of NRA, Knox said that agency had "reduced production and retarded recovery."

The AAA, he added, "took bread and clothes from the poor." The agricultural phase of the Republican campaign was placed under the charge of representative Hope of Kansas, in Chicago. He said Governor Alf M. Landon would probably discuss the problem in an early speech.

Bearing on that situation, Secretary Wallace said here that while the soil conservation—subsidy program would be continued, the administration would not seek next year to limit wheat acreage and increase acreage of both wheat and corn.

In a letter read to the delegates, the president recalled that the supreme court had invalidated some New Deal laws and said "a return to reactionary practices is ever short-lived."

F. Lynden Smith Named Democratic Campaign Manager

Pontiac Man Will Have Full Charge, Bruce Campbell Says

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15.—(P)—Bruce A. Campbell, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, formally announced today the appointment of F. Lynden Smith of Pontiac as the Democratic campaign manager.

Smith is to have "full charge" of the campaign, Campbell said, with Harry B. Hershey of Taylorville as his assistant.

The announcement followed a conference attended by Campbell, Smith, Governor Henry Horner and other Democratic state candidates.

Saying he was "well pleased with this arrangement," Campbell authorized Smith to announce campaign personnel in a few days.

"We are all united in bringing about a tremendous Democratic success in the fall," Campbell said. "I shall give my time and effort both as state chairman and personally to secure Democratic victory."

Appointment of Smith was agreed upon by the Democratic leaders at Chicago recently, the governor insisting that his business manager for the Division of Highways be placed in charge of the down-state vote drive.

Smith, who ran the Horner primary campaign outside Cook county, was objected to at first by some of the nominees who were lined up with the Kelly-Nash organization in April. Hershey, State Central Committee man for the Springfield-Taylorville district, participated in the downstate revolt of Horner men against the reelection of Campbell as State Chairman by Chicago members of the committee. He was then elected chairman of the downstate committee.

Speakers announced today were Francis J. Clair of New York, engineer and adviser of farm problems, who will speak for the Republicans, and J. N. Norton, former Nebraska congressman and now associated with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, who will present the Democratic side.

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 15.—(P)—Both Republicans and Democrats will have their say Aug. 26 at the Trask picnic, held annually at Trask Bridge, 12 miles north of here.

Speakers announced today were Francis J. Clair of New York, engineer and adviser of farm problems, who will speak for the Republicans, and J. N. Norton, former Nebraska congressman and now associated with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, who will present the Democratic side.

COMPLETE CANOE TRIP

St. Louis, Aug. 15.—(P)—An 11-day canoe trip from Chicago to St. Louis, was completed by Lester Frailey, 18, and George Trefts, 17, of St. Louis.

The trip was made by way of the Chicago Drainage Canal to the Illinois River, then into the Mississippi River.

Spanish Government Orders New Socialization Of All Industry; Battle Rebels

22 Killed When Train Hits Auto Truck In Quebec

Madrid, Aug. 15.—(P)—The Spanish government, its troops flung across the countryside in bloody battle against Fascist rebellion, tonight ordered new socialization of industry and sought to halt flight of capital that might reach rebel hands.

The huge oil, tobacco and other industries were confiscated by labor organizations and given over to workers to operate under state control.

A government decree forbade buying, selling or lending of securities and banned any transfer of real estate. The decree was applied to Spaniards both within and without Spain.

The objective was to prevent members of the onetime nobility and rebels from liquidating their holdings for cash that might be used to purchase arms.

The new step toward socialization was another in the program of the Liberal government that originally was the cause of the rebellion.

President Manuel Azana proclaimed a Liberal regime for worker and peasant when he took office in April. Many leaders of the army, who favored a Fascist army; monarchists who sought the return of former King Alfonso; industrialists who wished a highly capitalistic state, formed the opposition.

The result was rebellion, now in its 29th day of bitter conflict and with neither side making any apparent gain that might point an end to bloodshed.

In fighting today, the government forces drove back rebels who waged bitter attack against Irun and San Sebastian on the Bay of Biscay, northern frontier of Spain.

Execution of seven officers charged with resisting government advances in San Sebastian was recorded in a Loyalist newspaper.

The Madrid war ministry claimed slow advances against southern rebel sectors in Granada and on the north in Zaragoza province. Government activity in these sectors was bent on crushing the rebel armies marching against Madrid—that of southern leader Francisco Franco and the northern force of Emilio Mola.

(International complications added ever increasing tension to the civil battle between Socialist government and Fascist rebels with the report Portuguese border guards had fired on Loyalist troops.

(The Portuguese government protested to France against asserted "massacres" in Spain although indicating a willingness to join in a European neutrality pact.

(Germany still had not replied to France's invitation to join in the "hands off" pledge to let Spain fight her own battles, and Great Britain warned "serious repercussions" would result if European powers resorted to meddling in the conflict.

(Unconfirmed reports from Portugal asserted rebels had captured Badajoz, Western Spain, in their march toward Madrid. The Madrid war ministry insisted the government still held the city.

(One American and 37 British subjects, held prisoners by government adherents, were reported evacuated from Huelva province in the south.

(Six British airplanes left French soil, Paris aviation sources said, en route to delivery to the Spanish government.)

Progressive Mine Union Head Blames U. M. W. A. For Suit

Organization Sued For $400,000 By United Electric Coal Company

Gillespie, Ill., Aug. 15.—(P)—William Keck, president of the Progressive Miners of America, today asserted the $400,000 damage suit filed against his organization by the United Electric Coal company was "aimed directly at the time tested right of organized workers of the United States to strike and peacefully picket."

In a written statement, Keck claimed that "if United Mine Workers of America officials are not directly connected with this damage suit, they are indirectly connected through their part in securing the injunction which forced our organization to cease peacefully picketing."

The United Electric Coal company, operator of the Red Ray mine at Freeburg, Ill., this week filed the suit in federal court at St. Louis, against seven local unions and 36 members of the Progressive miners organization.

The bill asked damages of $300,000 to cover business losses through labor difficulties and $100,000 maintenance charges for the period of April, 1933, to last spring when the mine was reopened under a federal injunction.

The company previously had sought a $350,000 judgment to cover alleged business losses. U. S. District Judge Fred L. Wham recently overruled that motion but granted leave to file an amended petition.

Los Angeles, Aug. 15.—(P)—Elaine Barrie, former friend of John Barrymore, the actor, filed suit today for $15,650 as the result of being struck by an automobile Aug. 7. She alleges she suffered contusions of the chest and arms and great "physical and mental anguish."

Defendants are John Doe Swartzberger who she alleges drove in a careless manner, and Ida Seerman, owner of the car.

ALF M. LANDON PREPARED FOR EASTERN DRIVE

Will Make 3 Speeches And Many Platform Appearances

Estes Park, Colo., Aug. 15.—(P)—Gov. Alf M. Landon virtually completed plans today for his first eastern campaign drive which will include three major speeches, half a hundred rear platform appearances, and dozens of political conferences.

The Republican presidential nominee has charted a course which will begin at La Salle, Colo., Aug. 20, and take him through Colorado, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Missouri and back to Toledo, Kansas, by August 27. Landon will make more than 30 stops on his east bound trip and 15 westbound from New York.

Throughout the tour he will confer with local party leaders in a lounge car which will be included in his special train.

With Pennsylvania chosen for his first eastern speech, and President Roosevelt's home state for the next two, Landon put Illinois down for the greatest number of rear platform appearances. There will be 14 in that state—three eastward and 11 returning.

Leaving Buffalo, N. Y., at 10 p. m. (eastern standard time), August 26, after his last speech, the candidate's train will make an overnight trip to Chicago where a stop will be made for railroad operating purposes only.

From Chicago, Landon will travel down state, making his first appearance at Joliet at 9 a. m. (central standard time), August 27. Other Illinois towns listed for three minute stops include Dwight, Granite City, and East St. Louis. The governor will stop long enough at Springfield to place a wreath on the tomb of Abraham Lincoln.

St. Louis is the first scheduled stop in Missouri, but will be only for a railroad change.

Between 5:10 p. m. and 8:23 p. m., the train will make stops at Washington, Jefferson City, Sedalia, and Warrensburg.

Mrs. Vanderbilt's Application For Legacy Granted

Surrogate James A. Foley Awards Her $100,000 To Be Paid At Once

New York, Aug. 15.—(P)—Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt's application for immediate payment of a $100,000 legacy she charged was being withheld by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Gertrude Whitney, was granted today by Surrogate James A. Foley.

The decision gave Mrs. Vanderbilt her first legal victory over Mrs. Whitney since the state supreme court granted principal custody of Mrs. Vanderbilt's thirteen-year-old daughter to Mrs. Whitney more than a year ago after a protracted suit.

The legacy was left to Mrs. Vanderbilt by her mother-in-law, Mrs. Alice Gwynne Vanderbilt, Mrs. Whitney and brother, General Cornelius Vanderbilt, children of Mrs. Alice Vanderbilt and executors of her estate, had contended Mrs. Vanderbilt had no right to sue for payment of the legacy because she had pledged it as collateral on loans totalling $50,000 from the Guaranty Trust company.

Louis D. Frolich, Mrs. Vanderbilt's counsel, told the court payments under the will had been made to servants and he did not see why Mrs. Vanderbilt should not receive similar consideration.

Three Miners Are Crushed To Death

Kirkland Lake, Ont., Aug. 15.—(P)—Three miners were crushed to death, the Canadian press reported tonight, by an avalanche of rock in the rich Lake Shore mine.

Burrowing frantically through tons of rock, rescuers reached an outstretched hand, but could not extricate the body.

The rescuers were working from below the level to which the rock fell and it was necessary to install heavy timber to prevent another slide.

The men entombed were Jack Bottrill, shift supervisor, James Morden, drill operator, and Roy Warwick, his helper.

Bottrill was single, the other two were married.

Morden and Warwick were caught with Bottrill when he made his regular inspection shortly after midnight. Nine men working nearby escaped.

WINS TITLE

Chicago, Aug. 15.—(P)—Miss Eloise Briese, 18-year-old Kenosha, Wis., golfer, defeated Miss Josephine Souckek of Chicago 2 and 1 today to win the Illinois women's public links golf championship in the 36-hole final played at Waveland course in Lincoln park.

Manufacturer of "Baloney" Money Is Under Arrest

New York, Aug. 15.—(P)—"Baloney" money, printed on rubber, may be a great gag—but don't expect United States secret service men to crack a rib laughing at it.

A couple of them dropped into the home of Benjamin Wasserman, 37-year-old chauffeur, here today and found they said $2,000,000 in the admittedly bogus currency plates, presses, and orders from novelty dealers for the stuff.

The bills, although somewhat similar to orthodox money, bore the words "Unique States of America" and "Try to redeem this lousy money."

But the secret service men didn't whack Wasserman on the back and tell him he certainly was a card.

They arrested him on a charge of counterfeiting.

Griggsville Girl Captures Health Contest At Fair

15-Year-Old 4-H Club Girl Scores Hundred Percent

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15.—(P)—The first of the major championships went to a 15-year-old girl today as the 84th annual Illinois State Fair opened its nine-day program.

Scoring 100 percent, Constance Kircher of Griggsville won the health improvement contest for 4-H club girls, the second time that a perfect score has been given in that part of the state fair program.

The winning boy scored 97.5 percent. He was Raymond French, 17, of Putnam.

Miss Kircher, a brunette, was a pound overweight but otherwise the judges found nothing wrong. Afterward she confessed that she doesn't like to eat tomatoes. Defects in his teeth cost French a higher mark. His aversion is spinach.

They were the winners in the health competition originally entered by some 23,000 rural boys and girls.

As judging started in other 4-H club classes, opening day visitors sweated in Springfield's oppressive heat but fair officials renewed their predictions for large crowds. Extensive use was made of free tickets issued in advance, although the fair still has a 25-cent daytime admission charge for those who come without passes.

The afternoon attraction at the grandstand was the "thrill day" performance by a group of professional drivers and pilots. During the day thirteen of the 21 pilots entered finished the Illinois pilots' efficiency contest.

For the second year, fair officials packed the amphitheater tonight as the WLS barn dance radio show was broadcast from the grounds. The first of the horse shows also was held at the coliseum.

War veterans held the spotlight to-morrow, which is set aside for competition by bands, drum corps and drill teams, with prizes to be awarded by Governor Horner.

Jacksonville Boy Captures Honors At Illinois Fair

Edward Scott Wins Reserve Shorthorn Steer

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15.—(P)—Robert Vaughn, 20, of Chenoa, won the grand championship of the 4-H club baby beef show today at the Illinois State Fair.

Vaughn's prize winning calf, an Aberdeen Angus steer, came from a herd of cows his father handled on a contract basis for a western breeder after the 1934 drought. It was Vaughn's fifth year of competition.

Another Angus, belonging to Lawrence Morgan of Aledo, won the reserve championship.

Other baby beef winners were: Champion Shorthorn, Derrell Neal, Lake Park; reserve, Edward Scott, Jacksonville.

Champion Hereford, George Weibel, Pittsfield.

Light weight Shorthorn, Helen Sadoris, Port Byron.

Light Weight Hereford, Delbert Hackman, Havana.

Light Weight Angus, Mary Kinsinger, Chenoa.

Medium Weight Shorthorn, Delmar Schlosser, Arrowsmith.

Medium Hereford, Raymond Gehlase, Beason.

Medium Angus, Lawrence Morgan.

Heavy Shorthorn, Derrell Neal.

Heavy Hereford, George Weibel.

Heavy Angus, Robert Vaughn.

Mercer county won the county championship, with Sangamon second.

KINGERY RETIRES

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15.—(P)—As he retired as state director of public works and buildings, Robert Kingery today stated that Governor Horner "has been completely sympathetic with the policies and program of construction that I have tried to work out and has stood squarely behind me."

Kingery resigned from the Horner cabinet to resume his old work as secretary and general manager of the Chicago regional planning association, North Dakota.

NAME COUGHLIN PRESIDENT AND ENDORSE LEMKE

National Union For Social Justice Organized

Cleveland, Aug. 15.—(P)—The National Union for Social Justice formally named the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin of Detroit its first president late today and endorsed Representative William Lemke of North Dakota and Thomas C. O'Brien, candidates for the new union party for president and vice president.

Endorsement of Lemke and O'Brien occasioned a noisy demonstration by the delegates, but the election of the Detroit Priest was made quietly by acclamation.

Father Coughlin maintained complete control of the organization under a constitution adopted today. He appoints the nominating committee whose choices for other officers are final.

Father Coughlin, immediately after his election, appointed a nominating committee of 23 members to name candidates for secretary, treasurer and board of trustees.

In an election address, Father Coughlin said, "I realize the responsibility of a teacher because I disagree with many practices of the present civilization."

"I will never turn my back on you and I will never sell you out," he said. "We will succeed, not necessarily in driving the money changers from the temple, but in driving the money changers' servants from the temple."

Father Coughlin then introduced two guests, Dr. Francis E. Townsend, founder of the Townsend old age pension plan, and the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, lieutenant of the late Senator Huey P. Long, to address the convention.

Father Coughlin composed protests against the appearance of the speakers by ruling that Dr. Townsend and Mr. Smith would not speak at a regular session but at a recess meeting which followed immediately.

He introduced Dr. Townsend first as "a really great American whose heart is so big that he does not refrain from bearing on his shoulders in his late years the burdens of the aged, the cross of the aged."

Brooks For Governor

C. Wayland Brooks, Republican candidate for governor, is making plain his stand on the issues of this campaign. Voters of Illinois do not have to depend upon hearsay concerning Mr. Brooks' platform. During the weeks following the primary election last April every section of the state has been visited by this vigorous candidate and he has explained in terms that are easily understandable to all, his ideas concerning state and federal government. No community in this large state is too small for this candidate to visit for he believes in carrying his opinions to the people in person.

An experienced student of government whose life has been that of a "typical American" Brooks has a clear conception of the needs of this state. He credits the state of Illinois for giving him his chance in life and is an advocate of equal opportunity for all—for the son of the poor man as well as for the son of the rich man.

The United States has been known throughout the world as the land of opportunity, and Brooks promises Illinoisans he will do all he can to maintain this reputation, which was gained by pioneer Americans, who have endured every known hardship to make this country what it is. He scathingly denounces the program of the present administration to regiment Illinois, as well as the other states of this nation, a program which would remove the incentive of the young man or woman of this country for striving to climb the ladder of success.

Mr. Brooks has pointed out that this state's problems are numerous and difficult. It is a great industrial center as well as one of the states of the union which has a great agricultural problem.

Mr. Brooks has his own ideas about solving these problems, but is ready to listen to the advice of others of wide experience. In this community where agriculture is most important his views on the problems of the farmers are given critical inspection.

Mr. Brooks does not claim to be a farmer, altho the only home he owns is a farm in LaSalle county. He does, however, have first-hand knowledge of the problems that confront the residents of rural communities. He does not need to take a tour thru the west to gain knowledge of the effects of the drought—no one needs to tell him what farm to market roads are. An inspection of his farm account books gives him authentic information concerning the operation of a farm.

Mr. Brooks was reared in a small community in the northern part of this state and his first job was as a farm hand. His first hand knowledge of agricultural problems together with the statement he has made that former Governor Frank O. Lowden has pledged to him his support in working out a suitable solution for a farm program in Illinois gives agriculturists of this state assurance that as an executive they will receive Mr. Brooks' utmost consideration and cooperation in giving to them an administration to which they are entitled.

In Mr. Brooks the people of Illinois will find a sympathetic executive, who knows from experience all of the hardships that go with that of a young man who has depended almost entirely upon his own ambition and intelligence to rise to the position he now holds. Mr. Brooks embodies the qualities that have in the past typified America. His election will insure a sane and intelligent administration, one that will bring to Illinois the credit to which we are entitled.

Polly-Anna

Occasionally, when the mercury is trying for a new altitude record in the summer time or is playing tag with the zero mark in the winter, someone breaks out with an exasperated question, "Why should anyone want to live in a climate like this?"

Visions of the seacoast, the sunny south, towering snow-capped mountains or cool, green woods begin to float before the eyes at such a time, and the harassed weather-worrier longs for a magic carpet, or at least a second hand car and a trailer, in order to get out of this forsaken portion of the world into a more habitable location.

Come to think about it, this is a pretty bad spot in which to live. Last winter it was twenty below, and this summer it has been up to 111 in the shade.

But what about the other places, where reports at intervals seem to be taken a Garden of Eden?

There haven't been any hurricanes here recently, such as sweep across the south and along the seacoast periodically. There haven't been any earthquakes here, such as rock the west coast from time to time. The drought which threatens to turn part of the middle west into a desert has not been felt so severely here as it has in many places. The thermometer didn't drop to fifty-five below and then shoot to 120 or more, as it has done in North Dakota. Rock and snow slides have not endangered life and liberty as they have in the mountains from time to time. Forest fires haven't wiped out whole towns and cost millions of dollars in this area.

Come to think about it a second time, maybe this isn't such a bad spot after all. Why should anyone want to live anywhere but in this climate?

Come to The Fair

For two weeks residents of this community and surrounding areas will be caught up in the enthusiasm of "come to the fair." The state exposition is off to a flashing start with only the yellow grass between walks and exhibits to remind colorful crowds of the heat and shriveling corn.

Morgan county's fair program has already gained considerable momentum with Four-H clubs discussing "The good that may be derived from attendance." Housewives, farmers and others who plan to invade the entry list for prizes are beginning to survey the possibilities of their grains and fruits. The women are hunting in the cellar for the best appearing jars of marmalade and pickles and gazing apprehensively at the oven whose product may get the blue ribbon.

From this point of view the country fair has begun to assume an increased significance. It is a rare sight to see a fancy piece of horseflesh pick his way, with tossing head, through city traffic. Smooth running saddle mounts are relics of an old age except on tracks and the lanes of riding clubs.

The average man really enjoys clambering into a box seat and watching the horse show. It is American, and worthwhile.

And the women—the women alone could guarantee the enthusiasm of the county fair. Rows of them will pass critically before the angel food cakes on display, perhaps remarking "Now I told Mary to enter this. She has the lightest cake I've ever tasted. Believe she could have done better than any of these. Right nice butter cake there, though."

In another corner of the busy place, a grizzled old feeder will scratch the placid back of a prize pig, and gaze with pride at the blue ribbon pinned on the outside of his pen.

Down by the midway a little boy and girl will pull on daddy's coat. "We want balloons and an ice cream cone, can we have 'em, can we have 'em?"

And their voices will be lost in the clink of dimes that go to satisfy their interpretation of the carnival spirit, will be lost in the oinks, baas, bleats, gossip and endless hurdy gurdy that is a fair.

So the man on the street, the farmer and business man, smiling children and eager women will join next week in the melody of the prelude, "Heigho, Come to the Fair!"

Bluffs Woman Called To Chicago by Death

Thief Gets About $40 in Theft at Union Bus Depot

One Suspect Being Held at Police Station; Robbery Discovered Early

About $40 in cash was taken from the Union Bus Depot early yesterday morning by a thief who apparently was locked in the building when the station closed near midnight. One suspect was picked up shortly after the robbery and is being held in the city jail.

The robbery was discovered when Mrs. C. B. Powell, who lives above the station, heard glass crashing on the landing of the stairway between the station and Rabjohns and Reids department store. She immediately called Kenneth Olson, manager of the Jacksonville Bus lines, who appeared on the scene about one o'clock and disclosed the theft.

The money was taken from a tin box which had been placed in a drawer of the station counter. Using some sharp tool, the thief broke open the drawer and the cash box, which were both locked, and escaped by breaking through the window of the stairway.

A reconstruction of the robbery as stated jointly by Mrs. Mabel Olson, president of the Jacksonville Bus company, Mr. Reid, owner of the building, and police Saturday morning is as follows:

Some time before the station closed, the thief gained access to the building through the front door, walked down the stairs to the basement. There he proceeded to rest on an up-turned container until closing time.

(The container was found in the basement surrounded by several cigarette stubs. The basement is used as a storeroom by the owner of the building, Mr. Reid.)

Inspection of the building before closing time failed to reveal anything amiss and it was locked for the night. Presently the thief emerged from his hiding place, went to the counter and pried open both drawers, inflicting considerable damage on the wood-work. He found the cash box, opened it, and without disturbing any of the tickets which were in the drawers, he proceeded to take the pennies which the box contained, began looking for an exit.

The only door to the establishment is the one leading onto the square, and this can be opened only with a key. So the thief went to the back of the building, found a window in the men's rest room, and attempted to force it. He removed all the mauling, and in so doing broke the window, but then found that the opening led into a court which furnishes no access to a street or alleyway.

He then mounted the stairs to a balcony at the rear of the building, crawled along a narrow ledge to the window, which opens onto a stairway leading from the street to the second floor of the building, broke the window pane, and emerged on the stair landing. From there he went down to the street door and out of the building. The door has an inside lock, and thus was easily opened, and locked again when it swung shut behind him.

Police Chief Frank Kiloran and Night Captain Williams responded to the call after Kenneth Olson had arrived at the scene, and began a thorough investigation. Sergeant George Vasconcellos was called and began a check on fingerprints found on the drawers and on the broken glass. Several good prints were obtained on the drawer from which the money was taken.

Three suspects were picked up soon after the robbery was discovered. Two of them were released almost immediately.

Ask Sportsmen to Organize Monday Night at Meeting

Jacksonville Sportsmen's Club to Seek More Fish and Game

Joining in a state-wide drive to better fishing and hunting conditions throughout the state, Jacksonville sportsmen have been asked to meet Monday night at the Morgan county court house for the purpose of organizing the Jacksonville Sportsman's Club.

Judge Walter W. Wright, recently appointed by Governor Henry Horner to begin the organization of the Jacksonville chapter, and Ernest May, well known local huntsman, will be in charge of the meeting.

In calling the meeting, Judge Wright stated that the organization of the Jacksonville Sportsman's Club is a move to cooperate with other clubs already organized throughout the state to remove the state fish and game department from the control of politicians.

Another purpose of the organization is to obtain fish and game for stocking purposes. Judge Wright explained that there is no other way possible to obtain fish and game, other than through an organization of this type. He related that numerous clubs have been formed throughout the state, and that these clubs have been able to secure fish for stocking streams and lakes, and game for stocking farms. It is the desire of these clubs to increase the production of fish and game by the state fish hatcheries and game farms, and to stop the seining of lakes and streams in one section of the state to supply fish to another section.

Although his appearance has not been assured, Judge Wright said that he has invited J. C. McConaha, club organizer for the Department of Conservation to be here for the meeting. Mr. McConaha has a number of interesting reels of motion pictures which will be shown if he is able to come here.

In outlining the proposed organization, Judge Wright referred to a pamphlet put out by the State Department of Conservation. The pamphlet suggests that the objects of the organization be to promote better hunting and fishing conditions, to aid wild life, and to cooperate with the State Department of Conservation.

The pamphlet suggests that meetings be held once a month, and that officers be chosen to preside over them. It also suggests that local chapters unite in a county organization, and that at no time the organization allow itself to be used for political purposes.

Several projects have been proposed for club work. Among them are crowd shoots, providing cover for birds, staging fox hunts, urging the use of flushing bars on reapers, providing means of hatching eggs of game birds and releasing game birds in the county, abating stream pollution, provide fish and game exhibits for fairs, and cooperation with game wardens.

Two Fires Result In Heavy Losses On Jersey Farms

House and Barn Burned This Week; Other News from County Seat

Jerseyville—Heavy losses were suffered through fires which occurred in Jersey county Thursday and the origin of both blazes is undetermined. The country home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Tober of the Kemper vicinity burned at seven thirty o'clock that morning and a barn on the J. G. Erwin farm, northwest of Jerseyville, burned at midnight.

It is thought that the fire at the Erwin farm resulted from spontaneous combustion. The place is rented by Charles Smith and neighbors and members of the Smith family saw the blaze at practically the same time. All efforts to save the building or its contents were futile.

The fire spread to a straw pile near the barn but the volunteer fire fighters prevented the flames from igniting the residence which is about a hundred and fifty feet from the barn.

The loss is estimated at approximately $2,000. At the time of the fire there was $600 worth of hay in the building, a hundred and fifty bushels of oats and $80.00 worth of harness.

The only water supply available to fight the fire was the cistern as the well at the barn had been pumped dry in watering the cattle earlier in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Tober were enroute to Jerseyville Thursday morning when their home near Kemper was destroyed by fire. They did not learn of the disaster until they reached Jerseyville where word of the fire had been telephoned to the Jersey County Farm Bureau office.

The flames were discovered by B. Elliott, a neighbor of the Tober family. Neighbors gathered at the farm in an effort to fight the blaze but they were unable to save either the building or the contents.

Mr. and Mrs. Tober are well known in Jerseyville. The former served as supervisor from Ruyle Township for many years.

Fires $10,000 Damage Suit

John Bloomer, public administrator of the estate of Cora Lee Elliott, through his attorneys, Harry W. Patton of this city and Manuel Wiseman of Alton, has filed suit in the circuit court of Jersey county against W. F. Fowler of Belleville asking $10,000 damages.

The suit arises out of an accident occurring July 3, 1935, on State Bond Issue Route Number 38 near Fieldon, which resulted in the death of Mrs. Elliott six hours later at St. Joseph's hospital in Alton.

Mrs. Elliott, a resident of Augusta, Ga., was enroute from Hardin to Alton, having gone to the Calhoun city that evening. The car in which Mrs. Elliott was riding with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Hazel Elliott Cole of Alton, collided with a truck driven by Fowler.

Mrs. Elliott was well known in Jersey county where she visited with relatives of her husband, Cornelius Elliott.

Obtains Promotion

Myron M. Everts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Everts who reside south of Jerseyville, began his duties this week as public relations representative for the American Airlines traffic department. Everts has been working as city manager for the company at Charles, West Virginia, and the new appointment is in the nature of a promotion.

Everts was formerly radio operator for the airlines at Chicago and was transferred last February to Charleston. Under the new arrangement, he will spend his morning hours at the airport, but during the afternoon he will contact airline patrons and agents. He also continues his duties as an operator, but is furnished an assistant for this part of his work.

Explores Mounds

Dr. Paul Titterton of St. Louis, archeologist of note, who was formerly a resident of Jerseyville, is spending several weeks in the mound district of Jersey county.

Dr. Titterton, during his vacation here, is exploring the Indian mounds in this region. This week he unearthed a perfect Indian skeleton which he found in one of the mounds on the bluffs near Otter Creek.

The Titterton collection of Indian relics is one of the largest and most valuable in the midwest and Dr. Titterton is archeologist of note, who was formerly archeologist.

A year ago Titterton and a party of friends from St. Louis and Herbert Downey of Jerseyville visited the Nutwood-Rosedale mound district and unearthed several Indian skeletons. In one mound were found the skeletons of five or six infants and three or four adults which were added to Dr. Titterton's collection.

SUBJECT: IRON FIREMAN COAL CONVEYING WORMS

MADE FROM COLD ROLLED STEEL

These New Feed Worms are made from rolled steel. In fact, from COLD ROLLED STEEL which gives the smoothest finish possible and assures many more years of carefree service in comparison with the Old Type cast worm. This New Type worm is also a METERING worm. It measures out just the right amount of coal from the hopper and then conveys it in a loosened condition on up to the retort to be burned. You will never have any packing of coal within the worm housing with the New Metering Iron Fireman Worm Conveyor.

STAINLESS STEEL TIPS

The end of the Worm in the Retort which is under the heaviest duty is made from STAINLESS STEEL rolled into a helical form the same as the remainder of the Feed Worm. This part of the Worm is subjected to the hardest duty, since it has heat, corrosion and abrasion to resist. Any one of these factors would not be of great consequence, but combined together they do cause deterioration to this end of the Worm. Wet coal having a high sulphur content forms a sulphurous acid, and this tendency increases when it enters the heat zone. Corrosion takes place, and this corrosion is immediately rubbed off presenting bright metal continuously to the corrosive elements. The STAINLESS STEEL used in Iron Fireman Worms RESISTS this corrosive tendency. The result is many more years of service compared with the common type of Cast Worm.

EXCLUSIVE FOR IRON FIREMAN

The Iron Fireman Design and Production Engineers are proud to have accomplished that which was said to have been impossible by other manufacturers. It adds another new feature which gives more satisfactory operation and prolongs the life of Iron Fireman Automatic Coal Burners.

Sunflowers Near Glasgow are Not For Use of GOP

Raised for Feed; Drought Has No Effect On Plants

Glasgow, Ill.—People passing the farm home of H. E. Sipes, west of Glasgow, upon noticing the large patch of sunflowers growing in the garden, might get the impression that Mr. Sipes is raising these yellow flowers for the new Landon pins now being worn by Landon supporters, representing his home state of Kansas, the Sunflower state.

However, they would be wrong in their supposition, as these flowers are being raised for chicken feed. The part used for this purpose is the seeds found in the bloom, and make very good feed for chickens.

These flowers are very easily grown, either being planted or coming up from the seed of the previous season. They are one of the few varieties of flowers that have survived the present drought and hot weather.

Mr. Sipes has several rows of these sunflowers, reaching entirely across his large garden plot.

EVER SINCE MY AUTOMATIC WATER HEATER CAME TO HELP ME . . . .

And what a help it is! What a joy! You'll find no shivery baths in that bathroom.... and no whisker-pulling shaves. You'll always have plenty of hot water for a shampoo. Come into the kitchen and you'll find the busiest hot water faucet of all.... making short work of sticky dishes and stubborn pots and pans. That one faucet alone saves at least two hours a day. Look all over this "hot water house" and you'll see why I say, "An automatic water heater is the one thing every housewife should insist on having in her home. It has only one answer when you open the faucet and that answer is 'Yes'!"

John Duffner Talks To Young Players

Team Play is Subject of Talk by Local Youth; Plan Try-outs

The YMCA-WPA baseball coaching class met at the YMCA building Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock to hear another interesting talk by John T. Duffner, Mr. Duffner has just returned from a trip to St. Louis where he was in conference with the manager of the Cincinnati Reds of the National League. Preceding his talk Mr. Duffner related a number of interesting stories of his recent visit.

The topic discussed Friday morning was "Team Play." In beginning his talk, Mr. Duffner stated successful team play calls for good work both on defensive and offensive playing, trying to do things together to get runs, or getting together to stop runs.

In batting, the usual policy is not to hit the first ball pitched. Various plays were explained for batters and base runners and how to think and act when certain situations present themselves, when to bunt and when not, depending on number of outs and location of runners on base; sacrifice hits and when to make them.

A comparison of batting averages indicate left hand hitters make the most triple base hits and a summary was given of major league players comparing their hitting ability. Mr. Duffner stated a batter must make up his mind where to step to meet the ball when it is half way to the plate after being delivered by the pitcher. This calls for fast and accurate thinking by the batter.

Miss Edna Bracewell and her piano pupils will give their annual recital in the Chapin Christian church August 28th, at eight o'clock.

Mrs. Chester Thomason of Markham was a caller here Thursday. Charles Wegehof and Andrew Cook of Jacksonville were callers here Friday.

William Gilliland is critically ill at his home in Bethel.

Mrs. Ellen Coultas returned home Friday from St. Louis where she spent two weeks with her niece, Mrs. Robert Thompson, and attended the ball games and the Municipal Opera "Bittersweet."

PRESSLate Advance In Wheat Market

Chicago, Aug. 15.—(P)—Abrupt late advances in wheat markets today resulted largely from reports that Kansas City was purchasing wheat back which recently had been sold to Omaha.

In sudden rushes to buy that took place during the last half-hour of trading here, previous speculative sellers both of wheat and corn made haste to reverse their market position, and found offerings relatively scarce. Complaints of abnormal dearth of sub-soil moisture southwest likely to hold up fall planting of domestic hard winter wheat were reported as a reason for re-purchases at Kansas City.

Assisting the late show of general new strength in wheat values was a firmer tone at Winnipeg, where earlier all wheat futures had fallen to below $1.00 a bushel. Incidentally, world carry-over stocks of wheat were estimated today at 440,000,000 bushels, against 589,000,000 a year ago, a reduction of 149,000,000 bushels.

Wheat closed nervous, 1-1/4 cents over yesterday's finish, Sept. 111-1/2, Dec. 110-1/2, May 110-1/2, corn 1-3/4 advanced, Sept. 108-1/2, Dec. 95-1/2, May 91-1/2, oats unchanged to 1-1/4, Dec. 43-1/2, and rye 11-1/4 up. The provisions outcome was 2 cents to 20 cents decline.

At the maximum, Chicago wheat prices today showed 2 cents a bushel overnight gain with Sept. at $1.11. Eastern houses were on the buying side of the market during early declines of prices, and apparently took all the surplus supply out of the futures pit. Weakness of Liverpool and Winnipeg quotations was an outstanding influence at this stage, together with assertions that European milling interests were holding off, and that Argentina has seen larger than normal wheat acreage.

Late advices from Winnipeg, however, showed October and May wheat contracts bounding back to well above the dollar level. Rains overnight in the prairie provinces were reported as mostly in northern districts, but with a forecast of further showers welcome at harvest time.

Ragged Rally In
N. Y. Stock Mart

New York, Aug. 15.—(P)—A ragged rally was the best the stock market could achieve today as liquidation ebbed at the week-end.

Gains of fractions to more than a point predominated among the most active issues at the close of a dull session, but the list generally made virtually no headway on the upside.

The Associated Press average for 60 stocks finished unchanged at 67.9, with a small advance in the utility group offsetting a dip in the rails. Turnover dropped to 366,320 shares, the smallest for a Saturday session since June 27, and compared with 865,270 a week ago.

An undertone of strength in markets for industrial metals, notably copper and steel scrap, focused speculative interest on those groups. Some of the textiles, especially in the rayon industry, also attracted fair demand on the rally in view of latest reports of forward wholesale buying and the firm price structure.

In contrast with the narrow movements of most issues, Philip Morris broke sharply preceding announcement of the death of the company's president, I. B. McKitterick. It finished 5 points lower around 90 after absorbing considerable selling.

Losses ranging to more than a point also were recorded at the finish for American Telephone, Du Pont, Santa Fe, Allied Chemical, Union Carbide and U. S. Rubber. Union Pacific dropped 3 points as the unseasonal drop in freight carloadings last week dampened ardor for the rails.

Closing fractionally to more than a point higher included J. I. Case, American Can, United States Steel, General Motors and Industrial Rayon. Kennecott sold at a new peak at 481, up 11, and Anaconda added 1 at 491. International Business Machines bulged 3 points to 168. Chrysler ended fractionally higher at 114.

Leading foreign currencies were unchanged in terms of the dollar.

Farm and Rural Interest

Pass Benefits on to Consumers, Brookings Institute Recommends as Plan for Recovery; Clean Hen Houses More Important Than Time of Housing For Laying Pullets; Hoppers Eat Handles of Pitchforks

With all the political talk that is being circulated around the country these days by Republicans and Democrats alike, it is refreshing to consider the plan advocated by a non-political organization for putting the nation back on a sound economic basis.

The Brookings Institution is convinced by a three-year study that the country can be saved economically by handing to the consumer the benefits of improved technical processes in the form of low prices. Dr. Harold G. Moulton, president of Brookings, and the professors and research workers of his faculty take the stump on a wholesale scale to sell the idea to the country. Give the American consumers their due, cry these earnest men of economic standing—And the nation will react to its normal prosperous status.

The Brookings plan seeks to end the great American paradox of plenty but with many factories idle and of food plowed under while men go hungry. Economists agree that the fault lies in distribution. The Brookings men go further and say the neck of the bottle is that the public is not being given the benefits that come from new processes and new machines. Let this golden flow be to consumers rather than to stockholders, is the plea. With this policy, say the Brookings authorities, prices could be brought far down—And the supply, as well as the American standard of living, could be sent far up in a day.

Time of Housing Hens Varies With Conditions

When is the right time to house the layers? "When they lay the first egg," says one. "The pullets whose heads begin to redden," says another. "One by one as they seem mature," says one writer, I do not know whether a poultryman or not. Another writer says that by housing them as they come into production, they will all be better acquainted and get along better. Doubt the new comers being slower of development and being strangers besides, give the earlier housed birds the advantage—and do not think they will not take it! Well developed pullets are sassy at best.

House your pullets at your own convenience, and do not doubt it would not apply to any one else. There are too many angles to try to give any set rule. One brood might be all ready for the housing, when another lot of poultry in the neighboring yard would not be ready at all. A few persons still believe that to let the pullets have free range until the corn is husked, and they have access to the scattered grain, is a good time. I favor this plan, if on a farm, and the weather stays reasonably good. Once they are housed better let it go at that. If not, every new installment that is captured and released in the house, causes another and yet another "upsetment." Not so good.

More important is what kind of shape the house is in. If, when the birds are turned into the building, it has been freshly scrubbed, and white washed—maybe, with fresh litter, clean, fresh nesting material, clean windows and a box of fresh soil in the sunniest corner for a dust bath, the birds after a couple of days will not care at all to be outside. Then, there should be roomy feed hoppers and water. Lots of water, probably five gallons for each one hundred pul-

Hog Market Is
10 Cents Higher

Chicago, Aug. 15.—(P)—Hogs wound up a week during which receipts were the smallest for any week in three months by advancing in some cases 10 cents today to a new peak price since last September $11.65 per hundred-weight.

A few sales were made in today's strong to 10 cents higher market, with choice mediumweights getting $11.35 to the top. Sows brought $9.25 to $9.75. Estimated holdover was 500. Little else was done in the livestock trade.

Light weight and butcher hogs closed generally 50 to 75 cents higher than a week ago with some sales of plain lights up $1. Sows gained 25 to nearly 50 cents.

Receipts of hogs and cattle were sharply lower than the previous week, indicating, livestock men said, marked decrease in distressed drought-induced liquidation of meat animals as a result of rains and improved weather conditions. Comparative decrease in the volume of highly finished swine coming to market, largely because of feed prices, widened the spread of values in the live market.

Cattle gained 25 to 40 cents during the week although bulls and vealers were weak, the latter losing 50 cents. Heavy steers rose to a new peak price for the current crop. The advance was shared generally by she stock and stockers and feeders. The extreme top for fed steers was $10. Steer quality was reported better than at any time this summer.

Fat lambs prices broke 50 to 75 cents during the week. Supplied, particularly from the northwest, increased. The upper limit on lambs late was $10, paid for natives and Washingtons.

Pork and beef wholesale prices showed practically no change.
